

The Committee on Climate Change is running a Call for Evidence to inform its advice on the fifth carbon budget (2028-2032) and its annual 'state of the nation' progress report, due respectively by the end of the year and in June.

The Call includes 15 questions relating to: climate science, international circumstances, opportunities and challenges in reducing emissions including through behaviour change, policy options, business and consumer decision-making, impacts of carbon budgets and differences within the UK.

Please take this chance to have your say and ensure that the Committee's advice continues to account for the full set of relevant evidence. Full details are available here.

The deadline for responses is 12 noon on 18th May 2015.
